T. C. NUNN.FOR TAX COLLECTOR:
W. I. McCULLOCH.FOR DISTRICT CLERK:
J. W. BARRON.Get up early, cut the weeds and you will have a good appetite for breakfast.Now that the editor is gone, we would suggest to his friends that his assistant eats roasting ears himself.Street paving in the residence district is now well under way in Bryan and our prediction is that before this movement is stopped you will find one of the best paved cities in Texas.The fact that Bryan lost a ball game Sunday to Hearne is responsible for the short report of the game in The Eagle yesterday. Had the score been turned around our reporter might have been able to get a full report.Weed cutting campaigns have been inaugurated all over Texas. This was suggested yesterday in The Eagle by Mr. Waldrop, of the Commercial Association, and unless his appeal is adhered to we shall put the campaign on here in Bryan.The editor of the Denton Record Chronicle is complaining about not having any chicken to eat. He says they are all being shipped away.
Brother Edwards, you ought to move to Bryan where the editor gets one of the flock brought to town to sell just because the farmer knows he likes chicken.With two two-story buildings under construction and plans for two three-story buildings being drawn, it would suggest that good times are returning to Bryan despite the fact that the Brazos River has washed away our most valuable asset for the past three years. If you can not build a building, go around and congratulate the man who can.This will no doubt be sweet music to poor old Jones, the fellow who pays the freight: According to Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, the U. S. government revenues are about $75-000,000 ahead of expectations. Receipts for the fiscal year ending June 30, will show a balance of $13,500,000 in the treasury instead of $62,000,000 deficit as forecasted last December.With an offer of 12 cents per pound on contract for cotton delivered this fall, and chickens bringing 25 cents to 50 cents apiece, and everything to eat bringing a good price, farmers of the Mart country have no need to worry over the prospects at present.—Mart Herald.Same way here, Brother Spencer, except we have no 25-cent chickens.
Our chickens range in price from 50 to 90 cents. We also have the opportunity to contract our cotton at 12 cents for fall delivery and our cottonseed at $30 a ton.

MENACE TO HEALTH.

A weed cutting campaign is in order as on some vacant lots and unoccupied residence lots they are becoming a nuisance to public health and comfort.—Hillsboro Mirror.You are correct, Brother Wedemeyer in most every word you have said, and we say Amen about the vacant lots, but in Bryan we have no vacant residences.

ONLY GOD IS GREAT.

A certain pasha, dead five thousand years.
Once from his harem fled in sudden tears.And had this sentence on the city's gate Deeply engraven: "Only God is great."So these four words above the city's noise Hung like the accents of an angel's voice.And ever more, from the high barbican Saluted each returning caravan.Lost is that city's glory. Every gust Lifts with dead leaves the unknown pasha's dust.And all is ruin, save one wrinkled gate, Whereupon is written, "Only God is great."

—Thomas Bailey Aldrich.

JUSTICE TO A FOE.

Of all the republicans who have given expression to their views on the administration of President Wilson, we have seen none so fair and unbiased as that of Leslie M. Shaw, former secretary of the treasury. He goes so far as to almost commend the Wilson administration and seriously doubts the ability of the republicans to defeat him. Commenting on Mr. Shaw's address, the Indianapolis News says:There is no one who can doubt the republicanism of the speeches delivered in this city by Leslie M. Shaw, former secretary of the treasury. Nor is there, we think, any one who will not admire him for the sense of justice and fair play which he showed when he spoke as follows:"I have no hesitancy in admitting grave doubts whether the republican party can, even if it should try, and also whether it ought to try to defeat the party now in power upon an issue of exhortation because it has failed to accomplish in four years what we failed to do in forty. If we have a small and inadequate army and navy, the republican party is 80 per cent responsible for its inefficiency, for the republican party has been in power 80 per cent of the last half century. If our coast defenses are silly, I submit it does not lie in the mouth of the re-publican party to say much about it.
Let the next administration be a business administration, and while preparing for peace let it also do what we all agree should be done—prepare for eventualities that may ensue."It is well that such a statement should have been made, and by a republican whose orthodoxy and party loyalty are beyond reproach or suspicion. Of course the statement is true. And being true, it would be almost dishonest—and might be fatal—for the republican party to go into this campaign on the theory that it was not true. The fact is that no administration, no matter what its political complexion, has ever found it easy, or, as far as any one can see, ever will find it easy to do for the army and navy what many of us have just come to see ought to be done.
Our race tradition is all against it.
Anti-militarism is in our blood, and we should be thankful that it is. But that is also a reason why we need have no fear of militarism as a result of any policy that is likely to be adopted. The danger is that we shall not go far enough rather than that we shall go too far. There are, of course, other obstacles, many of them of a serious character—one of them being "pork." When we ask for more soldiers and sailors and ships some supposedly wise men at once begin talking of good roads, rivers and harbors and public buildings. And others demand that we shall hire, at an initial cost of $75,000,000, soldiers from the states. This administration has had to face all these obstacles precisely as other administrations have had to.Doubtless Mr. Shaw's experience at Washington has brought all these things close home to him. And he is quite right in saying that there is no issue here out of which capital can be made. He even goes so far as to say that he doubts whether the republican party "ought to try to defeat
of exhortation because it has failed to accomplish in four years what we failed to do in forty years." These honest and manly words will, we imagine, be read with interest at Sagamore Hill.

QUEEN TODAY.

Jesse L. Lasky presents Fannie Ward in "For the Defense," by Hector and Margaret Turnbull.No star of the legitimate stage, who has entered in the greater field of photoplay acting, has achieved within so short a time, the extraordinary success that has come to Fannie Ward, the famous American comedienne. She is now the star in the Paramount picture, "For the Defense," produced by the Jesse L.
Lasky Feature Play Company and written by Hector and Margaret Turnbull.This will mark Miss Ward's fourth Lasky production. Her first was the comedy photoplay, "The Marriage of Kitty," and then in succession followed "The Cheat," the sensation of the year; "Tennessee's Pardner," and now "For the Defense."In this production Miss Ward will appear as a petite French girl who, coming to this country as a stranger, is suddenly thrown into the midst of a great tragedy. By an accident she becomes the sole witness to a murder for which a young man, unknown to her until he later assists her, is accused. When this man, who has kept

TO DEMAND RIGHTS.Republican National Convention to Be Stormed Tomorrow by Suffrage Leaders From 12 States.Chicago, June 6.—A week of woman suffrage activities designed to exert pressure upon the republican national convention for the adoption in the platform of a plank favorable to universal suffrage began here today with the opening in the Blackstone Theatre of a convention of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage. It will be followed on Tuesday and Wednesday by a conference of the National American Woman Suffrage Association, the culmination of which will be a parade in which it is estimated that 20,000 women will march and which will carry to the republican platform committee in session at the Coliseum a set of resolutions demanding votes for women.The two suffrage organizations have maintained distinct and separate headquarters from which their work has been directed.Women from twelve "enfranchised" states will participate in the meetingto form the woman's party, the first session of which will be held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Miss Maude Younger, of California, assistant national legislative chairman, will make the keynote speech as temporary chairman. The gist of this speech, it is announced, will be an attack on the democratic administration for its failure to act favorably on the Susan B. Anthony amendment.
Miss Anna Martin of Nevada, it is predicted, will be permanent chairman.Miss Alice Paul, national chairman of the union, will call the convention to order and Miss Younger's speech will follow. The appointment of rules, resolutions and nomination committees will then be taken up.
A reception for the visiting delegates will be held in the evening.

GOOD SPECIMEN OF POTATOES.

Fred Winters, who lives on South Dallas Street, brought to The Eagle office this morning a sample of some Irish potatoes which he has raised in his own garden. They were of the Irish Cobbler variety and one of those displayed tipped the scales at 21 ounces. Mr. Winters says that he has over 25 bushels and that he raised them in 8 rows across his garden, which is only 65 feet long. He has been offered 5 cents per pound for the entire lot. Think of one Irish potato bringing nearly 10 cents, and that potato raised right here in Bryan.
